IBM Careers

Dear Komal Krishna

Thank you for applying to the 133547 Associate System Engineer position.

You're invited to complete IBM's recorded competency interview. This short and engaging assessment allows you to showcase your skills beyond a traditional job application.

Please read this email carefully and follow the instructions provided below.

IMPORTANT NOTES:

Please note that being invited to take the assessment does not guarantee progression in the hiring process, and the assessment itself is only one part of the hiring process. Your results will be reviewed with the rest of your application including your skills and experience, and your application may be declined at any point.

If you are successful with the assessment, you will be contacted about next steps. If you are not selected, you will be notified, and you are welcome to apply for other open positions. We appreciate the time you invest in completing this assessment good luck!

1. This interview link will be valid for 7 days, but we recommend completing it as soon as possible.

2. Opening this link will NOT begin the interview process. You will have the opportunity to practice before you begin.

3. This recorded interview will take between 10-20 minutes to complete. You will respond to multiple prerecorded interview questions. For each question you will be given 1 minute to prepare and 3 minutes to respond.

a. Prepare by thinking about your past experiences and accomplishments. Prepare to tell us a bit about the background, action and result. Visit the Candidate FAQ for more tips on how to prepare.

b. This is not a live interview; it is a timed, recorded competency interview.

4. IBM strives to maintain the highest standard of business conduct. Cheating of any kind is prohibited.

a. Prohibited behaviors include leaving the assessment screen, taking screenshots of the content, and plagiarizing your responses.

The assessment has the below basic requirements:

- Please complete your interview in a quiet, distraction free area. Close all other applications and browsers on your computer.
- The interview is compatible with all modern browsers on Windows, Mac OS Desktop, and iOS devices.
